The Journey Continues

We must keep walking the road to recovery

Good morning! You are in the right place today. What a blessing it is to be able to approach God’s throne of grace with our offerings of praise and worship; and we get to do it together as a family redeemed by Christ! I hope that we will all be blessed through our time together this morning.

This morning we are concluding the Road to Recovery series. This particular series of lessons, which is certainly not original with me, has touched a lot of hearts and changed a lot of lives. I’m thankful that we’ve had the chance to walk this road together as we seek freedom from our hurts, habits, and hang-ups.

Just because the sermon series is ending doesn’t mean the journey is ending.

LIFEGroups News

This Sunday we will start our new series of lessons that we will be covering in our LIFE Groups for the next 5 months! The title of the series is Courage. There will be 9 lessons in this series; the first is titled The Lie of Less.

For generations, God had promised Israel a land. At long last, they were about to enter. But here’s the question: at the doorstep of God’s promises, how will we respond to perceived obstacles? Numbers 13-14 acts as a case study and warning for our lives and makes us reflect on the ways God is present with us today.

If you have any questions, please feel free to connect with Adam Simmons. There are cards on the table in the foyer with a listing of the RACoC LIFE Groups that are available.
