What God Can Do

God will do extraordinary things as we surrender to Him

Good morning! It's great to be back together again today. Last Sunday we had many families away for our annual family retreat. The retreat was such a blessing and a boost for many of our families; still, we're happy to have everyone back under one roof this morning. If you are visiting with us today we are especially thankful that you have chosen to be with us.

We're beginning a new series today entitled Faith Under Fire from the book of Daniel. I'm enjoying spending time in the book of Daniel in preparation for this series and some upcoming Bible classes. Today we will look at some parallels between Babylonian culture in Daniel's time and our current culture. What does it look like for us to live lives faithful to God when there is intense pressure not to?

In difficult times and trying circumstances we must focus on what God can do. One of the books I've been reading in preparation for this sermon series is entitled What God Can Do. Throughout Daniel's life we see extraordinary evidence of what God can do. When a teenager was taken captive from this home and transported almost a thousand miles away God worked wonders. Eventually this teenager named Daniel would become second in command in two of the largest and greatest world empires and would reveal great prophecies about world empires yet to come!

What can God do in your life? Don't underestimate his power or his willingness to work through you!

-Keith Kilmer
