Courage under Fire

The Bible gives us great examples of believers who held fast

Thanks for being here today! A large group of our men are at Ft. Smith State Park for our annual men's retreat. Mac Sandlin of Harding University is once again the speaker, and the theme is prayer. Pray that our men come back this afternoon mentally and spiritually refreshed.

Last weekend was so great. If you haven't attended a Leadership Training for Christ conference, please consider going next spring. It will really give you lots of encouragement about the future of the church. Our Robinson Avenue kids, in particular, did an outstanding job. Many of you heard and saw some of their presentations last Sunday night. Be sure and encourage our young people in all their pursuits.

Speaking of young people, this morning we're going to be studying the lives of three remarkable Hebrew youth – their names were Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah but you probably know them better by their Babylonian names – Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These three young men drew a line that they simply would not cross regardless of the circumstances. They were literally "put to the fire," but they held the line! These young men stand as great examples to us of what courage under fire really means!

Continue reading through the book of Daniel as we go through this study. Our Wednesday night men's and ladies' classes (FUEL and WPW) will also start studying this great book this week. Today, let's open our Bibles, minds, and hearts together as we join in worship and praise!
